LOCAL ITEMS.

CONCEALED TO REMAIN IN JONESBORO.—It will be extremely gratifying to the numerous friends of Dr. Wm. R. SEVEN, to learn that he has concluded to stay in Jonesboro, and resume the practice of his profession, instead of returning to Cincinnati, as he once thought of doing. You may seek the world over, and never can you find a nobler, purer, or more deserving citizen, or a more devoted patriot, than Dr. SEVEN. His loss to our community would be as the loss of an eye to the body. He is one of East Tennessee's "faithfuls among the faithful" who, like the mighty oak, when the storm and the tempest burst upon it, its roots strike the deeper and firmer in the earth. "The Union, the Constitution, and the Enforcement of the Laws" was his motto—his motto—and ever will be his motto.

TELEGRAPH OFFICE CLOSED UP.—It is with regret that we announce the Telegraph Office at this place has been closed, by order of the authorities in Chattanooga. What are the causes which led to this step we are unable to say, but we presume it is a movement preparatory to turning the line over, by the Government, to the Company. We regret the necessity for so doing, and more especially do we regret to lose our noble young friend FREDERICK W. TWITCHELL, the Operator. He is one of those rare specimens of humanity who have the tact to win their way directly to the hearts of all with whom they come in contact. Good-bye, "Fred"; many are your friends in Jonesboro, and many are their wishes for your prosperity and happiness. We hope to see the office soon re-opened under new auspices.

DR. C. WHEELER.—Press of business has prevented us heretofore from noticing the location of this young physician and Surgeon in our midst. He is the late Assistant Surgeon of the 8th, Tennessee Cavalry, and is only known among his comrades but to be esteemed and loved. We can never be better pleased than to have such men as Dr. Wheeler, make their permanent abiding place in our quiet mountain East Tennessee—a rock-ribbed and ancient as the sun. He is one of those affable, genial and worthy representatives of the medical profession, who makes friends with everybody.

SHERIFF'S COURT GUARD.—We are pleased to see that this body of men have been organized, equipped and armed, by order of the late County Court—Capt. Samuel E. Erwin has charge of them at present, and has already commenced drilling them for active service. If they do not accomplish anything but catch and hang a few horse-thieves, they will accomplish much good. There is work for them to do, and there is plenty of ammunition for them to use, and we sincerely hope they will be efficient in the work for which they were called into the service. We see many good and true soldiers have united themselves with the company—men who have been in the storm of battle, and played their part on the bloody field nobly, and with such men at the helm, our good citizens may rest assured that all will be done, possibly, to restore a healthy state of affairs in this county.

RETURN OF MR. MARSH WITH HIS WHEAT.—We neglected to state last week that Esq. R. Marsh had returned from the North with the wheat which the farmers of this county delegated him to buy. Mr. Marsh deserves much credit for his energy and perseverance in pushing forward his enterprise—and getting the seed grain through in time for the farmers to get it in the ground. His efforts in purchasing, collecting, chartering cars, securing reduced freights and managing well generally, should be, and doubtless will be, appreciated by our farming community.

ECLIPSE.—Yesterday, according to the Almanac, was the day of the eclipse, and so, says the Almanac-maker, nearly annular, (we "didn't see it" neither did our late competitor, S. K. v. N. K.) but imagine that it was an interesting spectacle. Owing to the state of the weather it was grand, gloomy, and peculiar; the sky was overcast with a leaden mass of clouds to the depth of—perhaps several miles, the rain fell—not in torrents, but drizzle, drizzle all day long, and the mud was unpleasantly deep if not deeper. We found it unnecessary to use a piece of smoked glass, as our stove smoked to that degree that every window in our sanctum is sufficiently colored as to preclude the necessity. Apropos eclipse.

FINANCING A KETCHER.—One of our merchants a day or two since hired a couple of little boys to carry a load of wood into his store, and agreed to give them twenty-five cents "Legal Currency." Shortly after having paid them, one of the boys returned, and accosted the merchant. "See here, Mister, I want you to pay me a quarter, for that other boy, what you paid the money to, has run off with the funds, and won't divide!" That boy who carried, will make a good clerk in some modern Broker's office.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LIBRARIES.—It is with ineffable delight that our little girls and boys will learn that the "new Sunday School books" have come at last. Both the Presbyterian and Methodist Libraries have arrived—and consist of many valuable and interesting volumes, which will both amuse and instruct the youthful mind. We trust, our young friends of both schools, will appreciate the efforts of those who have, with untiring and ceaseless energy, secured these valuable trophies of intelligence and moral guidance, and take care of them, as "sands of gold." We are instructed to ask all those who have old Sunday School books about their houses, to get them all up and return them to the Librarians, as they are to be used for a special purpose. Do not fail to take care of your Sunday School books—and when you have read them, and treasured up their lessons of truth and goodness, return them without delay to the Librarian, so others may read and have the benefit of them.

The late rains have put the farmers in good heart. The grounds in excellent order for sowing wheat, and on a short ride in the country this week, every farmer we saw was busy in his fall-ground sowing the seed he could muster, in order to raise a crop for the coming year. We conversed with one of the largest farmers from Sullivan county, who gave us his opinion that the usual amount of grain would be sown, even if the people had to live on corn bread, until the wheat crop could be harvested, East Tennessee being resolved to resume her position if there is any virtue in industry, energy and perseverance.

We are glad to learn that schools are being opened in almost every neighborhood in this and adjoining counties. The citizens are starting in the right direction, and if the present Legislature will only amend the existing school laws so as to meet the wants of the people, in a few years Tennessee will stand in the front rank in education, and compare favorably with any of the Northern States.

ALARMING SYMPTOMS OF REBELLION.—Passing up street a few days since, we saw a decided case of secession; one of the genus homo had taken a position in an alley, and was trying to keep down a rebellion that was going on between his digestive organs and a lot of mean whiskey. Whiskey could not be kept in subjection, but would rise in spite of all efforts to the contrary. At the time we left the irrepressible conflict was still going on.

THE SCHOOL-MASTER ABROAD.—The following are true copies verbatim of literature et spelling of Poll lists held for the election of School Commissioners not a thousand miles from this place. The orthography is unique. Old Noah can't beat that in his unabridged:

This is a true list of the votes polled in the present Election for Comishoner the 30 day of August 1865.

We the undersigned Judges Certify that the following is a true Statement of the votes polled for Common School Commissioners

Query—Will it be necessary for our Representative to pledge himself to go for the revision and amendment of the School laws. In other words, "can he see it?"

HORSE THIEVES CAPTURED.—THEY MAKE THEIR ESCAPE.—We were informed by Esq. R. Marsh, of Buffalo Ridge, in this county, the first of the week, that he and his neighbors had lost several horses about a fortnight ago, and that they had followed the thieves into Western Virginia, and Western North Carolina, and that they had managed to elude them at last—notwithstanding they were on the point of capturing them several times. After Mr. Marsh reached home, the Colonel commanding at Abingdon, telegraphed him that the thieves, named Fayette Willis, with his brother and others, had been arrested, and were lodged in the jail at Marion, Va. Mr. Marsh, Mr. Martin, and other neighbors, (horse-lovers,) started for Virginia immediately, but before reaching Marion, the second raid had succeeded in making their escape, and left for parts unknown. This is to be deplored, as an example of horse-thief hanging is a matter of much importance at this time. The country is overrun with these despicable wretches, who are fast relieving the country of its best and most useful stock. We must have a "hanging spree" before these increasing outrages are stopped.

REAL ESTATE DEALER.—It will be seen, by reference to another column, that Mr. C. T. C. Deake has opened an office to transact all kinds of business in the Real Estate line. Those having business in that line will do well to give him a call.

THE GLOBE SALOON.—Our friends, Messrs. DANIEL & PERRINE, are men of taste and elegance, and keep, undoubtedly, a nice and well gotten up Saloon, with everything in the liquid profession that makes blood circulate freely, and hearts grow merry. Their establishment is situated on the Railroad, just opposite the Depot, where you will always find polite and gentlemanly bar-keepers to wait upon you. Give them a call.

OLD DOCUMENT COME TO LIGHT.—The following document of "revolutionary" memory, was handed us for publication, by Lieut. C. S. Morely. It shows the spirit of the Union men of this portion of East Tennessee, when the rebellion first developed its hydra-headed form. These Union companies were formed all over East Tennessee, and had it not been for the mischievous part Kentucky played in the "great drama, in refusing to permit arms to pass through her domain for the Unionists of East Tennessee, she would have broken her yoke of tyranny, long before Burnside gladdened the hearts of her down-trodden people.

We the undersigned, agree and bind ourselves, to form into a company, for the purpose of protecting our wives and children, and for the purpose of resisting all mobs that may attempt to intimidate or force us into any measures against our wills, or to force upon us gag-law. We also bind ourselves to arm and equip, with all necessary arms, and to meet as often as the Captain of said company shall order, for the purpose of drilling. July 5th, 1861.

It was our intention, owing to some slight variations in his last circular, to copy from the Kingston East Tennessee the scurrilous article on our late competitor, Col. Reeves; but as the Colonel has "gone and committed matrimony," we have resolved, humanely, to let nature and the law "take their course."

Onward, onward, Colonel Reeves, And may ten thousand fold increase Be scattered over thy fields; And when in Legislature Halls Ye stand—by scrambling over the walls—May they hang to your heels!

Echo—"Anything imaginable!" The Colonel will leave on the first train, after reading this!—"Ingloriously!"

HOOP SKIRTS!

J. W. BRADLEY'S New Patent DUPLEX ELIPTIC, or double SPRING SKIRT.

THIS INVENTION CONSISTS OF DUPLEX (or TWO) Elliptic Pure Refined Steel Springs ingeniously braided tightly and firmly together, edge to edge, making the toughest, most flexible, elastic and durable spring ever used. They seldom bend or break like the single spring, and consequently preserve their perfect form during wearing. The Duplex Elliptic Steel Spring Skirt for a single day will never afterwards readily disfigure with their use. For Children, Misses and Young Ladies they are superior to all others.

The HOOPS are covered with a silk muslin dress and will wear twice as long as the single yarn covering which is used on all single steel hoop skirts. The three bottom rods on every skirt are also double steel, and twice or double covered to prevent the covering from wearing off the rods when dragging down stairs, stone steps, &c., which they are constantly subject to in use.

All articles made of the new and elegant Duplex Elastic, and are the best quality in every part, giving to the wearer the most graceful and perfect shape possible, and are undoubtedly the lightest, most comfortable, and economical Skirt ever made.

For sale in all first class Stores in this City, and in the United States and Canada. Having the Cutters, Sewers, and West End Tailors. Inquire for the Duplex Elliptic (or double) spring skirt.—A. & C. Sept 22w
